Welcome to the AABC Alaska Senior All-Star Game!

The Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches would like to welcome the fans, players, and coaches to the 2017 AABC Senior All-Star Games. This is an exciting culmination to a great basketball career before graduation and future plans. It is our honor to showcase the talent that our state has to offer and to promote the game, athletes, and coaches.

With that being said, we could not put on this type of premier event without the help of so many people and companies willing to sponsor this event. We would like to especially thank Arctic Slope Regional Corporation (ASRC) and Conoco Phillips for supporting our mission and making it possible through their donations. Please also take time to support the various other businesses that you will find throughout this program that support our student-athletes.

This is the 7th year we have held the AABC Senior All-Star Games, and we have had the privilege to watch a multitude of the all-stars go on from here and play basketball at the next level. We are grateful to the college coaches who have made their way to the last frontier to recruit our athletes and welcome them into your programs.

Congratulations to the senior all-stars; we hope you have an amazing weekend, and we wish you the best with whatever life brings you in the future.

The Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches has partnered with three nationally recognized companies to help provide opportunities for our members and coaches.

It's fun to be good. It's rewarding to see your hard work pay off. It's fun to be able to impose your will on your opponent. And most of all, basketball is more fun when you win! At PGC, you'll learn how to have more fun. Not in the sense of silliness or light-hearted pleasure, but the kind of fun that comes from the satisfaction of knowing that you're prepared, and then performing at your best.

-PGC

PGC Camps have generously offered to partner with the AABC and are leading the basketball industry in developing players. We are excited to work with PGC, and they have generously offered to provide scholarships to both coaches and players from the state of Alaska.

Baron is proud to provide the most advanced championship ring making process in the world. Our 3D designed rings are light-years ahead of the competition, and the difference in quality and craftsmanship is evident in every piece we create.

Every ring design is modeled with proprietary 3D software. Combined, our designers have over 50 years of experience in championship ring design and 3D modeling. With Baron Championship Rings, there are virtually no limitations when it comes to telling your story. If you can dream it, we can build it.

AABC has just partnered with Hudl to make video analysis and stat tracking easier. Hudl will breakdown your game and have stats and reports within 24 hours. Please see Jake at the booth during the game or go to hudlassist.com/basketball for more information. .

Parent(s)/Guardian(s): Jeremiah and Anita Jones

Future Plans: I plan on attending college at UAF or Liberty University for a Bachelor's Degree in Business Management.

Other Sports/Activities: Student Government, Volunteer work in our community, and in past years I dedicated time to coaching Elementary and Junior High basketball teams within my school. Some fun activities that I enjoy with friends and family are really anything outdoors that includes hunting, fishing, camping, and snow machining!

High School Accomplishments: In high school some accomplishments I have are being the Secretary for our Student Council and my class council. I have been given the privilege to be one of the captains for our girls basketball team for the past two years. I have been chosen on many occasions to be a representative for our school at different youth leadership activities like YLI and AASG. I believe that shows the standards I have been held to and I am grateful for being given these many opportunities.

People to Thank: There are so many people I need to thank for being supportive of me through my high school career. Especially when it comes to playing the sport I have come to really love over the years. My parents, my coaches, and the community have shown endless support and I will never take that for granted because I know the amount of effort that goes into making it possible for us to have all the experiences we get through high school. So thank you everyone for all that you do. You have helped make these past four years ones to remember!

Other Sports/Activities: Cross country and Volleyball

High School Accomplishments: I have been active in sports since elementary and have received many awards. I have been awarded MVP in basketball, All tourney in basketball and volleyball, I've received many three point and free throw trophies, and recognition in cross country. One award that will never be forgotten is the Academic Athletic Student Award of the year 2014. This award is chosen by the teachers and the principal based on my grades, attendance, hard work, and participation; an honor I am very proud of. I have also received many perfect attendance awards, and principal awards.

People to Thank: I would like to thank my lovely parents. Throughout my high school years, they've supported me in every way possible. Whether it was pushing me to do my best in practice or during a game, and making sure I was on top of my school work. If it wasn't for all their support, I wouldn't be the basketball player I am today. I would also like to give a shout out to my sisters for playing one-on-one with me to make me improve on my weaknesses. Lastly, I would like to thank Ed Lester. He helped me improve on my game in many ways, I can't thank him enough. He has devoted so much time and effort into Newhalen school basketball and has pushed each and every one of us to strive for greatness. Thank you again!

Scammon Bay senior earns top honor

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

During the final game of her junior season, Kiah Charlie lit up the Alaska Airlines Center.

The Scammon Bay junior poured in 30 points, and led her team to its first state championship in school history, helping her squad score a 66-43 win over Wainwright in the girls' 1A state title game.

As a senior, Charlie picked up right where she left off on the big floor on the UAA campus. After leading an undefeated Scammon Bay squad into the 1A state tournament, Charlie has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 1A Girls Player of the Year.

Charlie averaged more than 30 points per game during the regular seasons, Scammon Bay head coach Hershel Sundown said. And at 5-foot-5, Sundown said Charlie can have success in a variety of different ways.

"(She scores from) all over. She does a little bit of everything," Sundown said.

Sundown said having Charlie on the floor is a luxury for his team. She can post up one moment, and be at the top of the press the next. She can score and rebound in the paint, and then pull out and hit the three.

"She does everything," Sundown said. "She's a coach's dream."

Throughout Charlie's career, Sundown said the senior has consistently put forth the time and effort to improve.

"The willingness, the fact that she's so coachable," Sundown said of Charlie's many positive attributes. "Year after year. She's only getting better."

Sundown Charlie has the desire, and certainly the ability, to play at the next level. He said the senior has already been offered a scholarship from a school in Wisconsin, and there are programs in Washington also interested in her. Sundown said he'd love to see Charlie have the chance to play in her home state at either UAA or UAF.

"Hopefully they'll watch her during the state tournament," Sundown said.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR:
RYLIE LYON, BRISTOL BAY

COACH OF THE YEAR:
HEATH LYON, BRISTOL BAY

Love of the game drives Bristol Bay senior

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

Heath Lyon has coached basketball for decades. And for much of that time Lyon's daughter, Rylie, has been there. She started as the coach's daughter running alongside the court. Now Rylie Lyon is the center of attention on the floor.

Lyon, a Bristol Bay standout, has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 2A Girls Player of the Year.

"She grew up with it," Heath Lyon said of his daughter and the game of basketball. "She's an only child. She spent a lot of time at basketball practice."

Heath Lyon said started out as the little angel running around, and eventually she became the ball girl. As a sixth grader, Rylie started practicing with the high school team. But being the coach's daughter is not the only reason Rylie spends that much time in the gym.

She's drawn to it, Heath Lyon said.

"With her, what she does great is getting other people into the gym," Lyon said. "Her leadership skills. That's the biggest thing. Everybody looks to her. She calls up the girls, drags four, five girls into the gym."

All of that work has translated to success for Rylie Lyon and the Lady Angels. Last year, she helped Bristol Bay earn a spot in the 2A state title game. This year, the Lady Angels are 21-1 during the regular season.

Heath Lyon said Rylie, a 5-foot-7 senior, is his team's point guard. He said Rylie could play inside at the 2A level and could be a shooting guard at the college level, but prefers her to play point guard for Bristol Bay. From that spot, Rylie is averaging more than 18 points per game, but Heath Lyon said his daughter does a great job at getting her teammates involved.

"She gets the ball to everyone else," Heath Lyon said.

Overall, Heath Lyon said Rylie is simply passionate for the game.

"The biggest thing for her, is her love for the game," Lyon said.

IMPACT Academy

Post Graduate Program

IMPACT Academy provides Alaskan post-graduate players an additional year of skills training, physical development, collegiate level competition, and recruiting exposure to further their opportunities to play college basketball.

Alaskan players at IMPACT have had tremendous success in our post graduate program, advanced to higher levels of collegiate basketball, and created opportunities that did not exist coming out of high school.

Some of our Alaskan Alumni: Devon Bookert (Florida State University), Ryden Hines (Iona College), Jack Hobbs (University of Hartford), Colter Lasher (Houston Baptist University), Iziah Newsome (Simon Fraser University), Hunter Eisenhower (Seattle Pacific University), Christian Nidoy (St. Joseph's University), Jhayde Zamora (Fort Lewis College)

Parent(s)/Guardian(s): Jay & Dianne King

Future Plans: College, Mariners Degree

Other Sports/Activities: Cross Country

High School Accomplishments: I knew it was to important to keep up my grades but the most important thing I did in my high school years was establish myself as a leader. My ability to deal with conflict by being honest and direct helped me gain trust from people around me. I was not always able to meet my goals as a leader, but by working through things myself and sharing it with others, we were always able to find ways to improve. The biggest thing I learned about motivating myself and others is that even though we might not always achieve our goal, the process of working to together always inspired us to do our best. It is my hope that my leadership created a team of achievers and the time I spent on that team was positive, successful and inspirational.

People to Thank: Thank you to everyone that supported me!

PLAYER OF THE YEAR:
AUSTIN WHITE, NINILCHIK

COACH OF THE YEAR:
NICK FINLEY, NINILCHIK

Ninilchik senior, UAA recruit named 1A player of year

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

Austin White has been a conference champion. A state champion. A region player of the year. And now a state player of the year who will play Division II basketball at UAA in the fall.

And it all started with a trip to a dentist.

Ninilchik head coach Nick Finley first met White shortly after White moved to the area from the Lower 48. White visited a local dentist office where Finley's wife worked. Finley said his wife looked at White, then an eighth grader, and was surprised to see a boy that tall that didn't play basketball. Finley's wife urged White to hit the court.

And the rest is history.

"I can't even explain how many times we were in the gym for individual workouts," Finley said of White, a 6-foot-8 Ninilchik senior who has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 1A Boys Player of the Year. And thanks to that work, White is now among the state's best players at any level.

White averaged 17.8 points, 13.5 points, 3.9 blocks and 3.5 assists during the regular season, Finley said, and shot 62 percent from the field. White enjoyed a monster effort during the Peninsula Conference title game in early March, notching a triple-double in the win over Nikolaevsk, collecting 26 points, 16 rebounds and 12 blocks. He also had four assists.

Finley said White is a big reason why Ninilchik was able to dominate the level, beating 1A opponents by an average of 52 points a game. But Ninilchik also had schools from higher classes, and White continued to have success. Finley's squad beat 3A Nikiski and 4A Soldotna, and also played 4A Dimond during the regular season. Finley said Ninilchik worked to provide tougher competition for White and his teammates

White's senior year also included an opportunity to sign his National Letter of Intent to attend UAA and play basketball for the Division II Seawolves.

"It's a huge deal," Finley said.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR:
STEWART CONN, PETERSBURG

COACH OF THE YEAR:
RICK BROCK, PETERSBURG

Petersburg senior grabs top player honors

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

Following his sophomore year of high school, Petersburg standout Stewart Conn was invited to compete overseas to compete in an international tournament in Germany and Austria.

Conn, a starter with the Vikings since his sophomore year, was already a good player. But following the trip, in which Conn helped lead a Team USA U16 to gold in the United Winter Games, Petersburg head coach Rick Brock said Conn came back an improved player.

"His game went to the next level," Brock said recently.

Now as he enters the final stretch of his prep career, Conn is seen as the best in his class. The Petersburg senior has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 2A Boys Player of the Year.

Brock said Conn, who helped lead Petersburg to the 2A state title game last season, is averaging 21 points and nearly eight rebounds a game for a squad that captured the region title earlier this month.

"He is really the leader of this group," Brock said.

Brock said Conn has developed into a versatile threat for the Vikings, a player who can attack inside and out. Brock calls the 6-foot-3 senior a point forward, a player who can bring the ball up the floor and work inside.

"We play him all over the floor," Brock said. "He sees the floor so well, passes, shoots the ball. He can shoot the ball outside, score inside."

Brock said Conn wants to play at the next level.

"He would love to go play. He's got some community colleges looking at him right now," Brock said. "It's his dream. He definitely wants to go play at the collegiate level."

Calling all basketball coaches

A few key reasons why becoming a member of the AABC is important:

- ✓ Promote the game of basketball, student-athletes and coaches.
- ✓ Work together for the improvement of conditions in Alaska State basketball.
- ✓ Have a voice in the decisions made by ASAA.
- ✓ Select the all-state team and maintain an accurate coaches poll during the season.
- ✓ Honor and recognize players and coaches for achievements and accomplishments.
- ✓ Promote high school basketball and work directly with the National High School Basketball Coaches Association.

Join the AABC and reap the rewards.

Congratulations

Savanna James
Cameron University
2012 AABC All-Star

Savanna James led the Aggies with 14.8 points and 7.9 rebounds per game, while shooting a team-high 56.9% from the field and 43.9% from three-point range. Her scoring put her in the top-5 in the Lone Star Conference and top-3 in rebounding, as she recorded nine games of 20 points or more and scored in double-digits in all but six of CU's 27 contests. James scored a career high 26 points against Texas A&M-Kingsville, where her performance earned her Lone Star Conference Offensive Player of the Week. Following her standout junior year, James picked up All-LSC Second Team post-season honors.

Aminata Cole
Hawaii Pacific University
2013 AABC All-Star

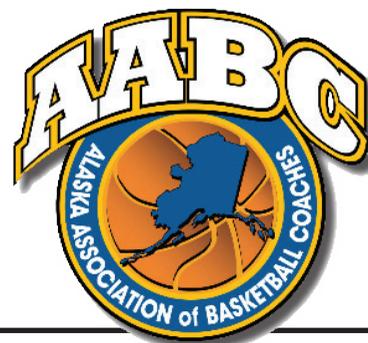

A Senior Center for the Sharks, Aminata Cole played a crucial role in helping her team earn a berth for the second time in school history(2015) to the Women's West Regional of the Division II Basketball Tournament. Cole shot 48% from the field and averaged 5.1 points per game. Named Player of the Week in January, she helped the Sharks defensively with 9 rebounds and 1 blocked shot, while scoring 7 points a game. She double-doubled with 11 points and 11 rebounds along with a block against California Baptist, then grabbed seven boards with a block versus Azusa Pacific.

Tara Thompson
University of Alaska, Anchorage
2014 AABC All-Star

As a sophomore, Tara helped her team win their 3rd straight GNAC Championship with an overall record of 30-2. On the season, Thompson shot 43% from the field, 44% behind the arc, and 89% from the free throw line. Averaging 8.9 points a game, Thompson provided the Seawolves a dependable 3-point shooter and solid defender. In UAA's first game of the 2016 season, she drained eight treys and totalled 26 points. In the first game of the Division II NCAA Tournament, Thompson sank all four of her 3-pointers in the 4th quarter to help the defending region champs stay on top.

to former AABC All-Stars for outstanding college seasons and careers!

Connor Looney Hawaii Pacific University 2013 AABC All-Star

As a senior, Looney assisted the Sharks in securing the season and tournament PacWest Championship, and was awarded a spot on the All-Tournament Team, as well as being honored as the PacWest Defensive Player of the Year. Looney finished fifth in the conference, averaging 16.9 points per game. HPU boasted a 28-3 record, and for the second time in school history earned a berth to the NCAA Division II Basketball Tournament. Looney was awarded a second-team spot for the All-West Region as he led his team in 3 point feild goals(65) and an 88.1% average at the free throw line, scoring a total of 518 points during the 2016-2017 season.

Jack Hobbs University of Hartford 2013 AABC All-Star

As a junior, Jack Hobbs accomplished many career bests with the Hartford Hawks. Against Drexel, Hobbs set a career high for 3-pointers(4) and points(14), with three rebounds and two steals. Turning in a career performance against Sacred Heart, he scored 18 points, 6-of-9 shooting with five 3-pointers and two steals. Hobbs continued to better himself throughout the season with a career-best four assists against Boston College and career high three steals versus Dartmouth. Jack finished the season with 25 steals, 13 blocked shots, and 196 points.

Da'Zhon Wyche Laramie County Community College 2016 AABC All-Star

As a freshman, Da'Zhon Wyche earned All-Region Team honors leading the Eagles to its best season in three decades with an overall record of 23-11 including a 12-4 record in Region IX South play, resulting in the Region IX South regular season championship. In 33 games, Wyche average as team leading 17.2 points, 5.6 assists, and 2.1 steals per game. He finished the season with an impressive 2.1:1 assist-to-turnover ratio, accounting for over 28 points per game when considering his points and assists together.

Hall of Trajon L

A basketball prodigy renowned for his hard work, Trajon Langdon became the profile of Alaska high school basketball. A 6-foot-3, barrier-breaking guard for East High School, he led his team to a state championship in his senior year.

In his four seasons starting for the Thunderbolts, Langdon led his team to four consecutive Alaska large-school state championships. He was the first player in Alaska history to be selected player-of-the-year three times.

Regarded as a deadly three-point jump shooter, Langdon's shot, inspired by a Roman emperor, was nicknamed "The Alaskan Shot." A prolific scorer and passer, yet appreciated simultaneously for his leadership, recognition and faced some of the nation's top talent.

In an unprecedented accomplishment for an Alaskan, Langdon was invited to participate in national summer camps for underclassmen and was named to the McDonald's All-America game and won the 3-point shooting contest. He was the first Alaskan recruited in history before selecting to play collegiate play.

During his Blue Devils career, Langdon was a top performer, an All-American and played in the NBA. A free-throw shooter, Langdon set Duke records for free-throw percentage. After college, Langdon played minor league baseball in the United States.

In 1998, Langdon was a member of the United States team that won the FIBA World Championships.

A lottery draft pick, Langdon became the first Alaskan chosen by the Cleveland Cavaliers and made his NBA debut. He played three seasons with the Cavaliers and then played two successful years with Russia's Moscow CSKA.

Langdon then returned stateside and became an executive in office for the San Antonio Spurs (three seasons) and served as the assistant general manager for the Brooklyn Nets.

of Fame Langdon

ard work, Trajan Langdon single-handedly raised basketball in the Lower 48 states with his prowess as a high school player in Anchorage during the 1990s. As a member of the Anchorage Seward Siskiwit Indians, Langdon led his team to three state championships and became the first player in state history to win three state titles.

A prolific shooter, Langdon, whose first name was gleaned from the name of the Alaskan Assassin. With Langdon as a talented and unselfish player, East gained national recognition for his talent in games against powerhouse schools. For an Alaskan, Langdon was invited to play with other Alaskan players. He played in the McDonald's All-American game. Langdon became the most heavily recruited player from Alaska to Duke University for his college career.

Langdon was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference player and played in the NCAA championship game. A 90 percent shooter for 3-point shooting. Over summers while in college, he played in the San Diego Padres organization. He was a member of the United States team that won a bronze medal at the 1996 Olympic Games.

Langdon was the first Alaskan to play in the NBA when he was drafted in 1999. Langdon spent parts of his professional career in Europe, including seven seasons in the German Basketball Bundesliga.

Langdon became an NBA executive. He worked in the front office for the Cleveland Cavaliers (one season) before becoming an executive for the Brooklyn Nets in 2016.

George Houston

George Houston is a basketball coaching institution in the state of Alaska, one of which who is considered to be a mentor, inspiration, and a coaching legend.

Coach Houston has dedicated his life to helping school-aged kids through the game of basketball in the state of Alaska. He has had an influence on thousands of kids across the state in his 40+ years of involvement with basketball. Coach Houston grew up in Juneau and was a state champion basketball player at Juneau-Douglas High School (JDHS) in 1969. He chose to stay in state to go to college at UAF, where he worked with the Lathrop High School basketball team. Upon his graduation from UAF, he returned to Juneau where he began teaching and working with his alma mater. Coach Houston spent 18 years as an assistant coach and then another 13 years as a head coach. During his tenure at the helm of JDHS he won over 200 games, including 11 Region V championships and two state championships, and only finished outside of the top 5 in the state twice. Since his retirement from teaching and running the basketball program at JDHS over a decade ago, he began volunteering his time to work with middle school basketball players, multiple local camps and clinics, and the local AAU programs.

Coach Houston's success and dedication to kids through the sport of basketball in Alaska is unparalleled. His humble nature has never sought out individual awards and accolades, but those in coaching circles, or even remotely associated with high school basketball in the state of Alaska, know his lasting impact.

Who will be next?

Many athletes who have played in the AABC All-Star Games have gone on to play collegiate basketball. The All-Star Games give athletes an opportunity to showcase their talents, and for those who have not already signed on with a college team, the games and exposure camps give seniors another chance at a scholarship.

2017 All-Star Girls 3A & 4A

JULIE AMAKTOOLIK

High School: Mt. Edgecumbe High School

Parent(s)/Guardian(s): Doris Amaktoolik

Future Plans: I plan to attend the University of Alaska Fairbanks to pursue my Associate of Applied Science degree in Applied Business for the Fall of 2017.

Other Sports/Activities: Volleyball and Cross Country

High School Accomplishments: For the past three years that I have attended Mount Edgecumbe, I have been awarded with the Superintendent's Honor Roll, and I hope to receive it again this year. I have also been accepted into the National Honor Society, and I now have the great pleasure to induct new members this month. I have qualified to state as a team in Cross Country, Volleyball and Basketball. I received the All-State basketball award for the 2015-2016 season. Mount Edgecumbe High School treated me good, and I am very proud of what I have accomplished.

People to Thank: I would like to give a huge thanks to my high school basketball coach, Dane Vincent for pushing me to become the best that I can be on and off the court. Also to my teachers, assistant coach Forrester, and Mr. Grulue. But the most important, my parents, Roy and Doris, for backing me up every step of the way and being my biggest fans.

CATHERINE BAHAM

High School: Wasilla High School

Parent(s)/Guardian(s): Dawn and Kevin Baham

Future Plans: Playing basketball in Washington

Other Sports/Activities: None

High School Accomplishments: 1st team All-Conference and All-Tournament team at State senior year, Dimond Tournament Player of the Game freshman, junior, and twice my senior year, Northern Lights Conference Champion 2015, 2016, and 2017, State Champion 2016 and 2017.

People to Thank: I would like to thank my parents for all the time and money they have spent on me to play basketball and for coming to support me at all of my games. I want to thank my grandparents for coming to all my games and believing in me with anything I do. And I also want to thank all my coaches for the years I've been playing and making me the player I am today.

2017 All-Star Girls 3A & 4A

ASHLYNN BURGESS

For Sitka senior, basketball is 'in her blood'

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

For the average person, there are certain things that just come natural. Eating. Sleeping. Breathing.

Zoe Krupa can add basketball to that list.

"She's got it in her blood," Sitka head coach Sondra Lundvick said recently. "Both of her parents played in college. Both have coached her entire life."

Krupa grew up on the court, with a basketball in her hands.

"It's one thing if the kid's a gym rat. This kid goes to the next level. She's super committed," Lundvick said.

And that commitment to the game as allowed Krupa to become one of the best of the state. Krupa has been named first-team all-state by the Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches. It's the second straight year that Krupa has landed on the first team. Krupa, who helped Sitka capture the 2015 3A girls state title, recently led the Wolves to a Southeast Conference crown.

"She's really been a team leader," Lundvick said. "She leads us in scoring, but she does so many other things for us."

Lundvick said Krupa's many abilities allow to her to be an asset in a variety of different ways.

"She's a good defender, our best rebounder. She can handle the ball for us. She can do it all," Lundvick said.

And it all goes back to the commitment to the game, Lundvick said.

"She plays other sports, but you can always find her in the gym shooting," Lundvick said of Krupa, who is averaging 15 points and 11 rebounds per game.

Lundvick also lauded Krupa's character.

"Zoe is such a nice kid. She has such a kind heart," Lundvick said. "She aspires to be a special education teacher. She works closely with the special (education) department at our schools. It's really neat to see her interact with the kids with special needs."

Wasilla coach calls senior 'one of the most underrated players in the state'

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

WASILLA — McKenna Dinkel spent a portion of her prep career flying underneath the radar.

Playing alongside first-team all-state selections, Dinkel may not have drawn the bulk of the attention during her run as a four-year varsity player with the Wasilla Warriors. But Dinkel found success in whatever role she was assigned. And now as a senior, Dinkel can't be overlooked. Dinkel currently leads the defending Northern Lights Conference and 4A state champions in both scoring and rebounding.

"She's probably one of the most underrated players throughout the state," Wasilla head coach Jeannie Hebert-Truax said of Dinkel recently. "People just don't take notice of her."

But Hebert-Truax and the Warriors know exactly what Dinkel brings to a squad. Entering the NLC tournament, Dinkel led the Warriors with 13.5 points and 7.8 rebounds per game. The forward is also shooting 54 percent from the floor, a team-high, and even leads the squad shooting 41 percent from behind the arc. Dinkel has knocked down 17 threes this season, third best on the team.

Dinkel is third on the team with 58 steals and fourth with 44 assists.

And now Dinkel is getting more recognition. After earned NLC Player of the Year honors, Dinkel has been named first-team all-state by the Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches.

Hebert-Truax said Dinkel has shown versatility throughout her career, and can help the team in a variety of ways. Earlier in her career, Dinkel was looked to as a player that needs to rebound and defend. As she became a veteran, the team began to depend on her more on the offensive end. This year, Hebert-Truax said Dinkel has become a threat inside and out.

"She can post up. We can pull her out to the perimeter. She also has a pretty good midrange game," Hebert-Truax said.

As the Warriors dealt with injuries, Hebert-Truax said the coaches even put together a package that includes Dinkel working at the point guard spot, and bringing the ball up the floor.

Hebert-Truax said Dinkel's basketball I.Q. allows the Warriors to use the senior in so many different roles.

"She knows and understands the game of basketball," Hebert-Truax said. "One of her major attributes is she understands the game. Not just her position, but everyone else's position too."

He spent a lot of hours working on his shot

By JEREMIAH BARTZ
Frontiersman.com

During the regular season, Tobin Karlberg shot 62 percent from the field. It's a number you might see from a big man who makes his living in the paint. But for the statistic is even more impressive for Karlberg, Grace Christian School's junior standout, a player who can score anywhere on the floor.

Raising his shooting percentage was a focus for Karlberg, Grace Christian head coach Jason Boerger said recently.

"He spent a lot of hours working on his shot," Boerger said.

And the work paid off. Karlberg averaged 24.8 points per game during the regular season, while shooting 62 percent. The standout point guard also shot 51 percent from three-point range.

"He raised his three-point percentage nine points from last year," Boerger said.

And the work ethic and production are among the reasons why Karlberg is being recognized as the best in the state. Karlberg has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 3A Player of the Year.

"He's a great kid. He always stays after. He always wants to talk to the coaches," Boerger said of Karlberg, who was also named first-team all-state as a sophomore. "He's always looking to get the feedback and improve. He's really been a delight to coach. I'm blessed to have him on my team."

Despite scoring nearly 25 points per game, Boerger said Karlberg is also selective with his shot.

"He doesn't shoot a lot. He's incredibly efficient," Boerger said. "He's fun to watch."

Karlberg also averaged 4.5 rebounds, 4.4 assists and 4 steals during the regular season.

In addition to all of his ability, Boerger said there are intangibles that stick out.

"Overall, his mental toughness," Boerger said. "He's so competitive. He's just so determined to win. He also has a good heart and loves his teammates. He wants to see them play well."

1,000 points in his career with the Thunderbirds

By Jeremiah Bartz
Frontiersman.com

In late February, during a Cook Inlet Conference game at Chugiak, East Anchorage senior Moses Miller stood at the free throw line.

After Miller drained both free throws, East head coach Jason Jno-Lewis called a time out.

Miller had just hit 1,000 points in his career with the Thunderbirds.

"I took a time out so he could kind of enjoy that moment," Jno-Lewis said recently. "He's never going to get that moment again."

That moment was just a piece of Miller's stellar prep career that started with him being known as a promising young shooter. Now, Miller is seen as the best in the state.

Miller has been named the Alaska Roof Coatings/Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches 4A Boys Player of the Year.

"He's definitely really grown to be quite the basketball player," Jno-Lewis said.

Jno-Lewis said Miller could always shoot the ball, but that's now just a piece of Miller's skill set.

"He can affect the game in so many different ways," Jno-Lewis said. "His game has evolved."

Jno-Lewis said Miller now scores in a variety of different ways, he defends. Maybe most important, Jno-Lewis said, Miller makes everyone around him better.

"He's not as vocal as some of the guys I've coached in the past. He's very quiet, very humble. But Moses leads by example," Jno-Lewis said.

Jno-Lewis said the overall growth of Miller and evolution of his game is a big reason why East has been seen among the top teams in the state this season.

Jno-Lewis said Miller is preparing for a career at the next level, and certainly sees potential for the 6-foot-1 senior guard.

"The sky's the limit," Jno-Lewis said of Miller, who was also named the CIC Player of the Year following the regular season.
